RNR100 WEBSITE

The following paragraphs are taken from the RNR centenary website

<http://www.rnr100.com/>

'The RNR100 history page is designed to allow facts and figures to be added by visitors to the site. As visitors e-mail in events which they particularly remember in the hundred-year history of the Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve (RNVR) and the Royal Naval Reserve (RNR) this will make a fascinating record of events. What can you remember? Please send an e-mail to <mailto:history@rnr100.com>. Let us see if we can ensure an entry for every year!

You can help us to grow this site into the most comprehensive history ever of the Naval Volunteer Reserves.'

The Royal Navy's Reserves in War and Peace 1903 - 2003 by Stephen Howarth.

We have now sold almost half of our commitment of the new book being written by Stephen Howarth but I am anxious to get orders placed for the remainder. If you are thinking about a copy, please order it now and then I shall have more flexibility in offering financial support to events during the year. £20 covers the cost of the book (cover £19.95) and postage and packing to a UK address. Cheques should be made payable to 'RNR100' and sent to RNR100, PO Box 2000, Kenley, Surrey, CR8 5XL.

WILDFIRE REUNION

It is planned to hold a WILDFIRE reunion this year, possibly in September or October. I will be sending out details in the near future. In the meantime it would be good to see some of you at any of the other events during the year.
